Session 1: Stress Awareness for Business Professionals

Stress seems to be an unavoidable fact of life in our modern society. Constant stress can lead to feeling exhausted, pessimistic, and even depressed. The negative impacts on the individual are obvious, both on a personal and a professional level. It is interesting to see how an uninterrupted tradition of knowledge that is more than 1,500 years old can prove an effective means for coping with pressure and stress.

The goal of this session is to give you hints on how to move away from being “pushed around” by your appointments, commitments, stress and emotions. The quality of your life is determined by your attitude towards those factors, and your ability to master them.

This session is led by Monks from the Shaolin Temple Europe which is existing since more than 1,500 years and belongs to one of the oldest orders in the world with an uninterrupted history.

The Shaolin monks are always eager to share their knowledge and insights with people outside the monastery.

Shi Heng Yi,
35th generation Shaolin
disciple and Headmaster
of the Shaolin Temple
Europe

Session 2: Smart technologies in Finance – reducing time we spend on transaction activities in favor of value-added ones

During this session we will look into:

- The journey from transactional to value-added job
- Defining the need and opportunity for digitalization
- Robotic Process Automation – what it is and how Coca-Cola Hellenic (CCH) has implemented it
- Going mobile – cloud based technologies for enhanced user experience.

Ruzha Stranska

Company Purchase To Pay
Manager

Mersa has a 18 year strong record of achievements in Coca-Cola Hellenic (CCH), working for CCH Serbia & Montenegro, where she has held various positions in IT/BSS department.

Session 3: Leading Multigenerational Teams

For the first time in history organisations are experiencing four (or even five) generations in the workplace. What impact will this generational difference have on the way we work? Is there anything that digital natives can learn from the fountain pen generations? And vice-versa?

In this session we shall look at the differing expectations and how to manage them as well as motivation and the shift from compliance to commitment. We will also explore the different ways of working with digital natives.

Tim Kemp, people development consultant and facilitator from UK with over 30 years of multicultural experience. Tim is a Fellow of the Chartered Management Institute and a Member of the European Coaching and Mentoring Council.

Respected advisor and coach to strategic leaders in a variety of sectors and industries. He is a faculty Member, PwC Academy in Eastern Europe for the Mini MBA Programme as well as an Adviser to GSK Project Management Academy and Morrison's Coaching Leadership Academy. In addition he is a Visiting Fellow at Bristol Business School.

Session 4: The Link between Intrapreneurship and Creativity

The main objective of this session is to outline the link between intrapreneurship and creativity and to stimulate participants to think differently. This will help them believe that they can challenge the status quo at their organisation with ideas and add more value by doing things better.

Creative thinking is a skill and there are techniques to use to develop this skill that will be outlined in this session. It will also touch upon the importance of capabilities and Business Intelligence as areas where innovation can be found.

Dr. Constantine Kiritsis is a lecturer at several MBA programmes in different universities throughout Europe as well as at several PwC Academies. Dr Kiritsis is teaching topics such as Corporate Strategy, Entrepreneurship, Business Planning, HR and Marketing.

His knowledge areas spans from general education to developing programmes, vocational education and training (VET), Professional qualifications (PQs) and teaching topics such as Corporate Strategy, Entrepreneurship, Business Planning and HR in several universities in Europe.

Session 5: 5 ways to manage better your Accounts Receivables

During this session you will learn:

- Critical success factors to support reduction of Accounts Receivable days and minimize risks
- What are the challenges in FMCG environment
- How changes in customers behavior and technology impact success
