

Finance for non-finance professionals

Live Online Workshop with PwC's Academy

This training aims to help non-financial professionals raise their awareness of finance and use financial information in making better business decisions.

Objectives

The main objective is to raise the level of financial awareness of participants. This will enable them to use the financial information provided to make better short-term or long-term decisions in managing their businesses.

Benefits of attending

This workshop provides the basic principles of Accounting & Finance. It includes the areas that people involved in business should be aware of at an understanding level (not necessarily synthesis). It covers areas such as budgets, analysis of financial statements, the concepts of asset, capital, profit, revenues, margin, dividends, cash flows and other.

Who should attend?

Directors, managers or anyone who uses financial information in the course of their work. Prior knowledge of accounting/finance is not required.

How to develop your financial literacy?

The training provides basic financial information and terms that will enhance professionals' financial literacy. This leads to better understanding on how the business decisions about the organisation are made and how to increase their efficiency.

Dates:

13 May 2020, 10:00 - 16:00 EEST

14 May 2020, 10:00 - 16:00 EEST

Detailed agenda and log in details will be shared additionally.

Price: 200 EUR (VAT excl.)

Corporate discount is available for group participation.

Language: English

Registration: here or at our email: bg_pwcacademy@pwc.com

Main Topics

Financial Statements

Financial Analysis

Break-even point

Budgeting

Managerial accounting

Management decision making

Lecturer:

Nemanja Djerkovic, ACCA

Nemanja Djerkovic is the finance manager of the company Eaton Electric d.o.o. As a lecturer he has held a large number of seminars on topics of finance, accounting and IFRS.

Previously he held the position of a Senior Associate in Audit in PwC's office in Belgrade. Since the beginning of his career Nemanja has been engaged with audit projects for public and private companies as well as on projects of providing services to governmental institutions and non-governmental organisations.

Since the launch of PwC's Academy in Serbia, Nemanja has been involved as a lecturer on the topics of IFRS, finance for non-finance, as well as on other finance and accounting related topics. Currently he continues providing lectures on accounting and financial management topics through PwC's Academies. Nemanja graduated at the Economics Faculty of Belgrade University.

